

From the Math Department to the Art Department: Larry Gonick on Being an Overeducated Cartoonist

Monday, March 5, 2012 at 8 pm
Science Center Hall C, Harvard University

Larry Gonick (Harvard math AB '67, AM '69) is the author of The Cartoon History of the Universe (3 parts), The Cartoon History of the Modern World (2 parts), The Cartoon History of the United States, and Cartoon Guides to Statistics, (non)Communication, Physics, Chemistry, Genetics, the Computer, the Environment, Sex, and the newly-released Cartoon Guide to Calculus.